Every one of you has much to be proud of today and I encourage you to take great satisfaction in seeing the results of your hard work. You are the star of the show; relish your accomplishments!

Today we look to the future with great anticipation and optimism. The University of Winnipeg graduates have much to offer Canada and the world beyond our borders. Be persistent, pursue your goals and know that you will have our continued support along the way.

MR. ROBERT SILVER, BSC (HONS)

CHANCELLOR

THE UNIVERSITY OF WINNIPEG

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

To the Graduands of 2013:

This is an historic Convocation – our 100th since our birth as a university. The University of Winnipeg's first Spring Convocation for the conferring of Bachelor degrees in Arts, Science, Divinity and Theology was held on Sunday, May 26, 1968. The ceremony took place at Manitoba Centennial Centre Concert Hall with 367 students receiving degrees. Since that time, we have proudly graduated 46,672 students. Today, you join those ranks.

As we celebrate our 100th Convocation ceremony, we pause to honour some key individuals who have contributed to the viability, growth and success of UWinnipeg by bestowing special 100th Convocation Awards. It takes many talented and dedicated faculty, staff, administrators, alumni, donors and community volunteers to fulfill our academic and community development mission and to help each of you achieve your full potential. It is my honour, on behalf of The University of Winnipeg community, to embrace our many partners and offer congratulations to each of you on your achievements.

UWinnipeg is uniquely urban and richly diverse. We are a campus that welcomes global perspectives and I hope that your years here have allowed you to learn and grow not only in the classroom, but from each other. As new graduates who are transitioning to become tomorrow's community leaders, entrepreneurs, academics and activists, I urge you to remain flexible, curious and open to new opportunities and ways of understanding the world. Learning has become a lifelong privilege and responsibility.

The UWinnipeg campus around us has undergone an incredible transformation, changing to better serve future generations of students with world-class facilities, while strengthening our downtown and inner-city community. We are creating new, relevant academic programs and reaching out to all students, including those who have traditionally faced barriers to participating in post-secondary education. That too, is our greatest strength. You are part of this vibrant community university.

As new alumni, you are now members of the UWinnipeg family. It is our sincere hope that your time at the University will serve you well.

THE HONOURABLE LLOYD AXWORTHY, PC, BA, PHD, LLD, OC, OM
PRESIDENT AND VICE-CHANCELLOR
THE UNIVERSITY OF WINNIPEG

MESSAGE FROM THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Dear Graduates:

I would like to personally congratulate each and every one of you on your accomplishment and welcome you to The University of Winnipeg's Alumni Association.

This day marks a milestone in your lives. After years of dedication and hard work, here you are to bear the fruits of your labour.

The University of Winnipeg is not just another regular university. It is a place to make new lifelong relationships and a place to brainstorm creative ideas that actually make a difference in our lives.

After this day, you cross the line from being a student to an alumnus and join our alumni family of nearly 50,000; not only in Canada, but worldwide. As much as the UWinnipeg community was a great support for you during your student years, we hope you will remain connected to and supportive of UWinnipeg and its students in the years to come, as an active member of the Alumni Association.

The Association offers professional networking opportunities and volunteer opportunities. We help and support students through our mentor program and by raising money for scholarships; our representatives serve on the Board of Regents and on University committees; and we recognize and celebrate distinguished and accomplished alumni such as Michael Mayen (BA 4-Year '07), whom we honour today. We also participate in a lot of fun activities that celebrate The University of Winnipeg community and university life.

There is an Ubuntu saying that goes, "I am, because we are." In our case, our strength is our unity. So, we hope you will join us and stay as close as you can to UWinnipeg and the Alumni Association.

Congratulations once again to the class of 2013. Now go out and celebrate your day. You have earned it.

Sincerely,

VASSAN ARULJOTHI (BA '09)

FACULTY & STAFF AWARDS

Phil Baker, BA, BEd, MEd

MARSHA HANEN AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN CREATING COMMUNITY AWARENESS

As Director of UWinnipeg's Faculty of Education ACCESS program since 2003, Phil Baker has created new pathways into post-secondary life for countless students, especially Aboriginal students and those from minority groups. Finding innovative ways to meet real student needs, Baker has helped ensure many students graduate and become successful teachers in our community.

Baker has strengthened the academic rigour of the Winnipeg Education Centre program, developed to serve students in the inner city. Under his leadership, enrolment has been stabilized, retention rates have soared, and the hiring rate of graduates has increased dramatically.

Baker has also developed and helped to expand other successful programs, including the Community-based Aboriginal Teacher Education Program. This allows educational assistants to work while studying part-time, so they may become teachers in their own right. The program has expanded to service seven school divisions, including two First Nations communities. The Immigrant Teacher Education Program supports newcomers with teaching backgrounds in gaining the credentials needed to teach in Manitoba. The Aboriginal Post-Baccalaureate Diploma in Education helps build and support Aboriginal teachers' skill sets.

In addition to playing an invaluable role within the Faculty of Education, Baker works with community groups on a regular basis and has delivered keynote addresses about UWinnipeg's ACCESS program in Vancouver, Istanbul, Jerusalem, Nairobi, Germany and England. He has further enhanced UWinnipeg's reputation through numerous publications.

For his unwavering commitment to broader community inclusion in education, The University of Winnipeg is proud to present Phil Baker with the Marsha Hanen Award for Excellence in Creating Community Awareness.

Leslie Uhryniuk

CAMPUS SUSTAINABILITY RECOGNITION AWARD

In her role as Manager of Print Services, Leslie Uhryniuk has been instrumental to UWinnipeg's success in exceeding its sustainability goals with respect to recycled paper usage on campus. The goal was to move from 30% post-consumer paper to 50%, and Uhryniuk's work ensured a transition from virgin paper to 100% recycled for campus stationery and copy paper. This means the UWinnipeg community is now saving approximately 1,389 trees each year.

In addition, Uhryniuk was a key member of the team which selected and rolled out the current fleet of printing and photocopying machines at The University, which is saving about 24,263 Kwh of electricity per year. The new fleet includes scanning technology, which has also reduced paper use. For her strong commitment to sustainable practices, The University of Winnipeg is proud to honour Leslie Uhryniuk with the Campus Sustainability Recognition Award.

Gerri Zacharias, BEd,
Post-Baccalaureate Certificate

CLARENCE ATCHISON AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN COMMUNITY SERVICE

Gerri Zacharias is a passionate and tireless teacher. She answers calls and texts from students, their families and colleagues during evenings, weekends and throughout the summer. As Acting Director of UWinnipeg's Collegiate Model School, she spends her summer months researching and writing scholarship and bursary applications so that each of her students may succeed in attending a post-secondary institution.

The Model School, created in 2008 in partnership with the community, has 40 students from Grades 9 to 12 who are identified as being bright and capable but have various barriers that could prevent them from reaching their potential. Zacharias nurtures each individual and, with her staff, has created a learning environment that is inclusive and energizing.

She has been an active volunteer coordinator with UWinnipeg's Eco-Kids on Campus program, which brings Grade 6 students from three inner city schools to campus weekly to learn about science and the environment. Zacharias is also an integral part of UWinnipeg's popular Eco-Kids Summer Camp, which to date has allowed more than 6,000 inner city children to attend fun, free day camps and stem summer learning loss. Zacharias is both the backbone and the heart of the Eco-Kids programs.

Zacharias has a quiet strength and is a role model and mentor to many. As one recent Model School graduate named Brandon says, "I always pictured myself graduating from a public school a few years late and doing everything myself. When Gerri came into my life, I knew it does not have to be like that. My grades have been improving and I've been eating properly. Some of the barriers I faced are gone and I can finally focus on school, basketball and the people who are close to me."

Brandon is one of 29 students who have now graduated from the Model School under Zacharias's direction, the majority of whom are going on to pursue post-secondary studies.

For her outstanding dedication, compassion and determination on behalf of inner city youth, The University of Winnipeg proudly bestows on Gerri Zacharias the Clarence Atchison Award for Excellence in Community Service.

FELLOWSHIPS & EMERITUS

Bruce C. Daniels, AB, MA, PhD

FELLOW OF UNITED COLLEGE

During his 31 years of teaching in the Department of History in the Faculty of Arts at The University of Winnipeg, Bruce C. Daniels established an exemplary record in teaching, scholarship and self-governance.

A compelling, effective instructor who was consistently popular with students, Daniels was recognized with the Clifford J. Robson Award for Excellence in Teaching shortly after his arrival at UWinnipeg. Over the years, his educational reach expanded to include the Seniors program, Stony Mountain Program and the High School Enrichment Program.

The first recipient of the Erica and Arnold Rogers Award for Excellence in Research and Scholarship, Daniels continued his well-respected research with Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council grants and was a Fulbright Fellow and Chair in both 1993 and 2005. He authored ten books and served as editor of several prestigious journals while working at The University of Winnipeg.

His enduring commitment and contribution to university self-governance are evidenced by his chairmanship of more than a dozen committees, membership on the Board of Regents and a 20-year membership on the Senate. As a trusted advisor to The University, Daniels served as a member of search committees for President, Chancellor, Vice-President and Dean.

It has been noted that Daniels takes immense pleasure in time spent over coffee and lunch with colleagues in Riddell Hall.

For his many years of dedicated service to The University of Winnipeg's students, faculty and staff, we honour Bruce C. Daniels as Fellow of United College.

Henry Edmison Duckworth, OC, PhD,
DSc, FRSC

PRESIDENT EMERITUS (POSTHUMOUS)

Dr. Henry Duckworth's deep and enduring relationship with The University of Winnipeg dates back to 1932, when he was a student at Wesley College. Over the decades, his contributions were many and his generosity to UWinnipeg was immense.

Duckworth graduated in 1935 and taught physics at United College from 1938 to 1940. He had a distinguished teaching and research career as an accomplished physicist and in 1954, became UWinnipeg's first Royal Society of Canada Fellow; he was named a Fellow of United College in 1966.

Duckworth returned in 1971 to become the second president in The University of Winnipeg's history, a position he held until 1981. That year he became President Emeritus of The University of Winnipeg and in 1984, received an Honorary Doctor of Laws. Duckworth was also an inaugural member of The University of Winnipeg Foundation's Board of Directors.

Duckworth's impact on student life at UWinnipeg was significant and continues to this day. The Duckworth Centre, slated to house the University's new Wellness Centre, hosts the Wesmen family and the annual Duckworth Challenge, along with student fitness activities and dozens of community events every year. Even when he was well into his nineties, Duckworth could be found cheering on the Wesmen.

The beloved Great Rock Climb that began in 1972 was the brainchild of Duckworth, celebrating endurance, ingenuity and teamwork. Duckworth's name and support also belongs to several annual student scholarships. Henry Duckworth passed away in December 2008 at the age of 93; his legacy at The University of Winnipeg lives on.

Robin H. Farquhar, BA(Hons), MA, PhD

PRESIDENT EMERITUS

Dr. Robin H. Farquhar served as the third President and Vice-Chancellor of The University of Winnipeg from 1981 to 1989.

In a time of heavy fiscal restraint, Farquhar demonstrated exceptional diplomacy and sensitivity, as demonstrated by his success in obtaining various grants to address under-funding issues. Farquhar commonly referred to UWinnipeg as an “urban university” and as such, was passionate about The University’s entrenchment in local issues and events, the recruitment of a larger student body and the development of outreach programs that would involve as many members of the larger community as possible. His dedication to the establishment of an expanded UWinnipeg community was evidenced through his many noted achievements – including the Athletic Centre, which became known as one of the best athletic facilities in Canada. Throughout his presidency, Farquhar worked tirelessly to build the reputation and profile of UWinnipeg by becoming an esteemed ambassador through his community involvement and strong relationships with government and business leaders.

In honour of Farquhar’s steadfast commitment to maintaining the autonomous nature of The University, the Robin H. Farquhar Award for Excellence in Contributing to Self-Governance was established in 1989 by the Board of Regents.

Prior to arriving at UWinnipeg, Farquhar received B.A. (Hons.) and M.A. degrees in English from The University of British Columbia. He completed his Ph.D. in Education Administration from The University of Chicago and later served as Dean of Education at The University of Saskatchewan. After departing UWinnipeg in 1989, Farquhar joined Carleton University in Ottawa as President and was later accorded the title of Professor Emeritus of Public Policy and Administration.

Farquhar has chaired the Canadian Bureau for International Education and is former president of both the Canadian Society for the Study of Education and the Commonwealth Council for Educational Administration. An author of over 100 published books and articles, Farquhar is a well-respected international consultant in matters relating to higher education policy and management.

Dr. Marsha Hanen, OC, BA, MA, PhD

PRESIDENT EMERITUS

Dr. Marsha Hanen served as the fourth President and Vice-Chancellor of The University of Winnipeg from 1989 to 1999. In her role as President, Hanen was instrumental in the advancement of UWinnipeg's growth and development strategy. During her tenure, notable accomplishments include: the passing of The University of Winnipeg Act, which had been highly sought after since The University's creation in 1967, establishment of a full Bachelor of Education program, and the opening of both the Bulman Student Centre and the acclaimed Eckhardt-Gramatté Hall.

Hanen is a staunch believer in the importance of liberal arts and science education at the undergraduate level; the Marsha Hanen Award for Excellence in Creating Community Awareness was established to recognize the activities of faculty and staff which reinforce the value of a liberal arts education and which expand understanding of, and respect for, UWinnipeg.

Throughout her career, Hanen has served on university and faculty committees and has been involved in community education, health organizations, arts organizations, and women's groups. Her academic work has focused on philosophy of law, philosophy of science, feminist theory, epistemology, liberal arts, inter-disciplinary education, research, ethics and privacy. She has published numerous books and papers and has presented addresses at conferences across North America and abroad.

Hanen later served as President of the Sheldon Chumir Foundation for Ethics in Leadership. This role reflected her longstanding dedication to the promotion of ethical behaviour among leaders and prospective leaders and fostering principled, community-minded values and behaviour among the business community.

Hanen's exemplary work has earned her many grants, awards and honours, including induction to the Order of Canada and a Fellowship in Law and Philosophy at Harvard University. Her solid academic credentials, consultative leadership style and inclusive nature were well recognized throughout the UWinnipeg community.

H. Sanford Riley, CM, BA, LLB

CHANCELLOR EMERITUS

H. Sanford Riley has served The University of Winnipeg in numerous capacities and with great distinction. He served as the institution's sixth Chancellor for three full terms (2000 to 2009), during which time UWinnipeg underwent remarkable growth and development.

Riley was the founding Chairperson of The University of Winnipeg Foundation Board of Directors, which launched and oversaw the most ambitious capital campaign in UWinnipeg's history; it raised an unprecedented $135 million and allowed for a campus renaissance.

Riley's commitment to UWinnipeg has also been personal. His generous donation established the H. Sanford Riley Fellowships in Canadian History, and in June 2009, the H. Sanford Riley Centre for Canadian History opened, bringing together associations and organizations committed to researching the history of Canada from Indigenous and colonial times to the present. In May 2013, the important Oral History Centre took root within this location.

For his ongoing and dedicated support to UWinnipeg and the broader community, Riley was awarded an Honorary Doctorate of Laws in 2009.

100TH CONVOCATION AWARDS

Patrick Deane, BA(Hons), MA, PhD

100TH CONVOCATION AWARD

When Dr. Patrick Deane took on the role of Acting President at The University of Winnipeg in 2002, he shouldered numerous challenges. At that time, UWinnipeg faced a period of transition within the ranks of senior administration, as well as a financial crisis — struggling with both a deficit and longstanding pension issues. Criticism and public scrutiny added to the challenge of governing the institution.

Deane served The University in an exemplary manner, allowing it to rebuild and move forward. During his tenure as Acting President, The University community pulled together; the accumulated deficit was eliminated, a balanced budget was presented and The University's new fundraising arm was established.

Deane also provided stability via development of a strategic plan and an academic plan to guide decision making. Known for his quiet manner and confidence in the abilities of others, Deane demonstrated a collaborative leadership style, inspiring others to teamwork. For his exceptional contributions as Acting President, Deane was awarded UWinnipeg's Robin H. Farquhar Award for Excellence in Self-Governance in 2004.

Deane is currently President and Vice-Chancellor of McMaster University in Hamilton, Ontario.

His efforts helped lay the groundwork for improved financial health and strategic planning processes. Graydon also oversaw the establishment, in April 2003, of The University of Winnipeg Foundation, which is dedicated to raising private funds and providing donor stewardship to support the mission of The University and its Collegiate.

In 2009, Graydon became a recipient of a Fellowship in The University of Winnipeg.

Hechter served The University of Winnipeg with dedication as Chair of the Board of Regents from 1998 to 2000 and throughout his tenure as a member of the Board of Regents from 1993 to 2003. He played a principal role working with university administration to advance the development of a home for UWinnipeg's Theatre and Film department and in building relations with alumni. He served on numerous Board committees and as a member of various search committees for President and Chancellor positions at The University.

Hechter is a loyal donor to the UWinnipeg and has made many contributions in advance of and throughout the "World of Opportunity Capital Campaign", especially related to the solicitation of gifts from The University's past volunteer leadership, in the development of relations with Toronto alumni and with local UWinnipeg alumni leaders.

2013 marks Hechter's twentieth year of consecutive annual gifts. The personal and thoughtful contributions of Hechter and his wife, Sue, began with the establishment of the Sue and Frank Hechter Bursary Fund in memory of Dr. Hechter's maternal grandparents, Louis and Rachel Mindell. This fund has in turn given rise to a number of additional and significant endowed funds to honour family members, including the Frank and Minnie Hechter Memorial Bursary, the Louis and Rachel Mindell Memorial Bursary, the Irving L. Hechter Memorial Scholarship and the Elizabeth (Betty) Tresoor Memorial Award. Each of these legacy funds has inspired the additional gifts of others, the income from which annually supports awards to students with financial need.

In 2008, Hechter was a recipient of a Fellowship in The University of Winnipeg, conferred to those who have served The University with distinction on a volunteer basis.

THE UNIVERSITY OF WINNIPEG ALUMNI ASSOCIATION'S DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI AWARD

Michael Nuul Mayen, BA '07

DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI AWARD

Michael Nuul Mayen is a dedicated helper, advocate and friend to new Canadians, among them immigrants, refugees, young people and those affected by war. His own life experiences have instilled within him a passionate desire to help all newcomers find support, assistance, education and success in their adopted country of Canada.

Mayen was born and raised in Sudan (in the region now known as South Sudan). In 1986, at the age of 12, he was forced to flee his country due to war and became part of a group known around the world as the Lost Boys and Girls of Sudan. As orphans displaced by war, the Lost Boys and Girls were forced to walk thousands of miles to seek refuge in neighboring nations like Ethiopia and Kenya. As one of the fortunate few lucky enough to survive, Mayen came to Winnipeg as a government-sponsored refugee in 1998.

Mayen attended The University of Winnipeg and graduated in 2007 with a 4-Year degree in International Development Studies. During his time at The University, Mayen co-founded the Lost Boys and Girls of Sudan and founded the African Students' Association, for which he served as President from 2004 to 2007. Mayen was also the Global Action Coordinator for Menno Simons College.

In 2006, Mayen travelled to the Democratic Republic of Congo as a national election observer with the help of Dr. Lloyd Axworthy, former Minister of Foreign Affairs and current President and Vice-Chancellor of The University of Winnipeg.

In 2010, Mayen demonstrated his belief in the democratic process when he became the first of these global migrants to run for a political seat – Mayen ran for a councillor seat in the City of Brooks, Alberta municipal elections. While he lost in that election, his run was inspiring to many new Canadians as well as longtime residents of this great nation.

Volunteering and working with agencies serving immigrants, Mayen has advocated for and assisted newcomers to Canada in Manitoba and Alberta, helping them integrate into Canadian society. Mayen currently serves as Executive Director of the Language Centre for Newcomers in Brooks, Alberta – an organization that Mayen founded. He also volunteers his time speaking in schools, acting as an Arabic and Dinka language translator in court hearings for non-English speaking newcomers, and serving on boards of community organizations.

THE UNIVERSITY OF WINNIPEG

THE UNIVERSITY OF WINNIPEG COAT OF ARMS

The Coat of Arms of The University of Winnipeg was officially adopted by the governing bodies of The University during the academic session of 1972-73. The elements found within the Coat of Arms have been associated over the years with both Manitoba and Wesley Colleges, the ancestors of United College. The bunch of grapes in the lower portion of the inner shield derives from the Coat of Arms of Manitoba College. The grape symbol has its origin in the College seal adopted in the charter of 1871. The cross, the lamp and the open book derive from the Coat of Arms of Wesley College, designed in 1897 by Dr. J.H. Riddell. The cross – the symbol of sacrificial service in the interest of humanity – was the basis for his design and upon it he placed a shield – the symbol of protection. The lamp – the symbol of light – also represents learning, to which the Colleges have been devoted for over a century in the Province of Manitoba. The open book – representing instruction in the way of life and the bringing of understanding to the student – symbolizes knowledge in a general sense, although it may carry overtones of the Holy Scriptures in a more limited interpretation.

The motto, placed upon a scroll below, is the United College motto, here retained: Lux et Veritas Floreant (Let Light and Truth Flourish). The words catch the central import of the lamp (light) and the open book (truth), and express the hope that both may flourish (as the grape) in our country (the cross).

ACADEMIC DRESS

Academic dress originated in medieval times to provide warmth in the damp halls of learning. In its present form it includes a gown, hood (worn over the shoulders) and a cap or mortarboard. All universities have distinctive dress for each degree offered, which explains the variety seen in the academic procession.

The University of Winnipeg academic dress conforms to the North American Intercollegiate Code. All graduates wear a black gown which varies according to the degree conferred. The bachelor's gown is worn closed in front and is distinguished by its pointed sleeves. The master's gown is designed to be worn either open or closed in front and has closed sleeves with an opening to free the hands. The front portion of the sleeve below the opening has a long semi-circular cut-out. Doctorate gowns also may be worn open or closed. They are faced with velvet.

The edging colour on the hood indicates the faculty in which a degree is conferred: Graduate Studies – red; Science – gold; Education – blue; Arts – white; Business & Economics – brown. The width of edging is determined by the degree: three inches for doctors; two inches for masters and bachelors. Hoods are lined in red with a white chevron.

Honorary doctors' gowns are red in colour and are faced with white velvet. They are worn with red Tudor bonnets. The hood colour signifies the honorary degree: white for Laws; golden yellow for Science; admiralty blue for Letters; purple for Divinity. Hoods are lined in red and white – The University of Winnipeg colours. Fellows wear a gown of blue with neither hat nor hood. Members of The University's senior administration wear gowns of varying colours. They do not wear hoods.

THE BANNER

The banner, prominently displaying the Coat of Arms, was unveiled in 1988. The volunteer effort of Pat Corner, Fran Farquhar, Susan Ferguson and Sonya C. Wright took more than 1,000 hours.

Over 400 meters of thread and 30 meters of wool material went into the project, using traditional techniques such as quilting, embroidery and crewel.

A LOOK BACK IN TIME

THE UNIVERSITY OF WINNIPEG

A CAMPUS IS BORN

was established on July 1, 1967 by granting full university status to United College. This followed a long record of service to the community in higher education with the establishment of Manitoba College by the Presbyterian Church in 1871 and of Wesley College by the Methodist Church in 1888.

In 1881 the property of Ellice Avenue at Vaughan was obtained, and Manitoba College acquired a new and spacious home. Wesley College also occupied various sites in its early years – in the parlors of Grace Church, on Albert Street, and on Broadway at Edmonton – until, in 1896, it moved to its permanent home on Portage Avenue between Balmoral and Spence Streets. Here the large main building that looks like a castle, now known as Wesley Hall, was occupied. It included a men's residence. The women's residence, Sparling Hall, was completed in 1912 and in 1934 a library wing was added to the main building.

In 1926, following the union of the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches, Manitoba College and Wesley College were united by agreement. In 1931 Manitoba College sold its Ellice Avenue property and moved into the Wesley College building, where the two colleges functioned as "The United Colleges."

The years following 1938 saw steady progress in the development of United College. In 1951 a Theological and General Library Building was opened (later named Bryce Hall after the founder of Manitoba College); in 1959 Manitoba Hall, the Arts and Science Building and Ashdown Hall were opened; in the autumn of 1962, Graham Hall, the "new" men's residence was completed, and by December of that year, Riddell Hall was ready for occupancy, boasting a large dining hall, a cafeteria, a gymnasium and auditorium; in 1969-70 construction on Ellice Avenue resulted in Lockhart Hall.

In the summer of 1970 work began on yet another building, designed to rise above and integrate most of the earlier structures and provide space for an enlarged and modern library, facilities for expanding teaching departments, offices for an increasing faculty and a new cafeteria to serve student needs. This seven-storey building was completed in 1972, officially opened in September, and named Centennial Hall in recognition of the University's centennial celebrations of 1971-72.
