Welcome

Welcome to the Asper Centre for Theatre and Film (ACTF) at the University of Winnipeg (U of W). We are excited to have you join us for a performance at the ACTF and hope this Venue Guide will help you prepare for your visit.

Getting to the Asper Centre for Theatre and Film

The Asper Centre for Theatre and Film is located on the University of Winnipeg Campus, between Balmoral Street & Colony Street. To get to the U of W Campus you can walk, bike, drive, rideshare or take public transportation.

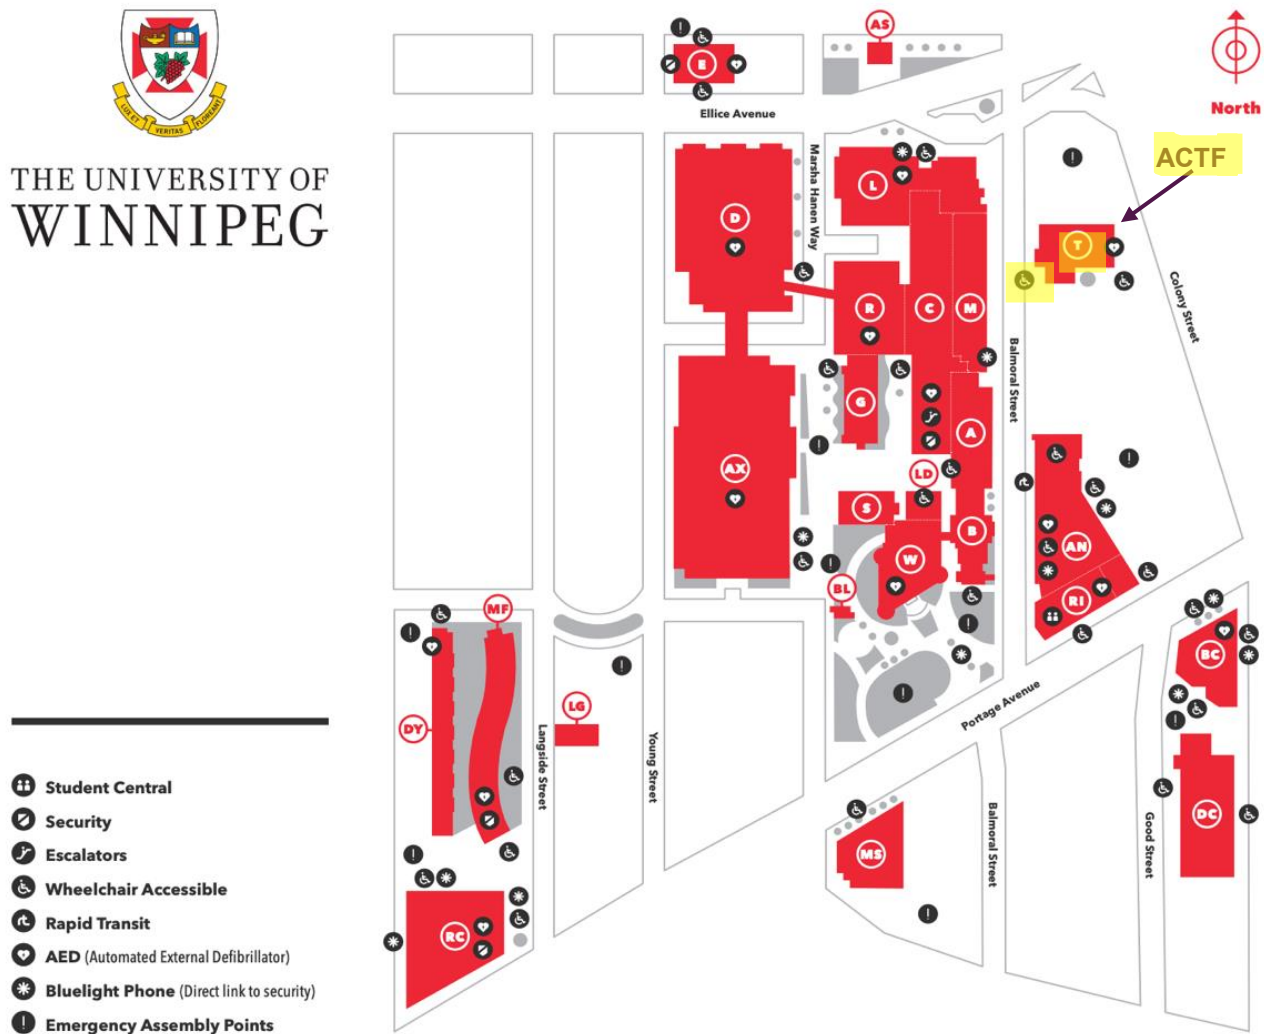

Image Description: A map of the University of Winnipeg Campus. Buildings are seen in red, with a legend on the bottom left that correlates with the buildings. Street names are also visible and ACTF has an arrow pointing to it.

The Asper Centre for Theatre and Film is accessible via Balmoral Street and Colony Street. If you approach the ACTF via Colony Street, you will find a small walkway between the ACTF and the ramp of the Rice Parkade. Follow the walkway until you see stairs on your right-hand side, these are the entrance to the ACTF.

Image Description: An orange/brown building in the background with a fence and trees in front. There is snow on the ground. A small walkway towards the building is visible.

If you require a ramp for access to the Asper Centre for Theatre and Film, please proceed along the same path past the stairs to Balmoral Street where you can access the ramp. Please note that this walkway from Colony Street to Balmoral is narrow and includes a gravel path that may not be wheelchair friendly. The best access is from Balmoral Street. If you are approaching the building from Balmoral Street, you will see a large ramp leading up to the main doors.

Although the ACTF's address is 400 Colony Street, if you need the ramp for entry providing this address can be problematic for drop-off and pick-up by taxis, ride share services or handi-transit. If you get dropped off, the closest building on Balmoral Street is 391 Balmoral Street, the apartment building located directly next to the ACTF. Providing this address can be more useful since drop off is easier on Balmoral Street than on Colony Street.

A locked bike cage can be accessed via Balmoral Street and is located on the left-hand side of the ramp. Please let someone at the front of house know when you arrive if you require access for your bike.

The closest bus station to the ACTF is Balmoral Station with direct access to the Rapid Transit Blue Line, Busses 48, 49, 46 and 42. Additional bus stations on Portage Avenue and Ellice Avenue are approximately a 5-minute walk away.

Two Impark parking lots (one on “Colony and Ellice” as well as “Old Bus Depot Surface”) and the “Rice Centre Parkade”, also managed by Impark, are in immediate proximity to the Asper Centre for Theatre and Film. The “Rice Centre Parkade” parkade is accessible via stairs and/or a steep ramp. All parking lots can be accessed around the clock. Impark parking lots can be paid at the machines in the lot or via the “hangtag” app. In addition, street parking is available on both Colony and Balmoral Street and free of charge after 5:30pm.

Once you arrive

For shows put on by the U of W Department of Theatre and Film, the doors to the ACTF open 60 minutes prior to the performance time. You will enter through two set of doors to get into the lobby of the Asper Centre for Theatre and Film. The lobby has access to the theatre, gendered washrooms, an elevator and staircase.

Image Description: Entrance to a building with two sets of glass doors. The first glass door has three red stickers. A red wall inside the entrance is visible. An intercom machine is on the outside of the building.

Inside the Lobby you will pass by the security desk and check in at our Box Office table. Proceed to the Box Office table to check in. If you reserved a ticket, your name will be checked off the attendance list and you will receive a ticket to hand to an usher at the door, when entering the theatre. If you did not reserve a ticket in advance, you can pick up a ticket at the Box Office table as long as the performance is not sold out. Tickets are always free of charge for U of W Theatre and Film Department performances. On our accessible performance dates, you will also meet our audio describers and / or ASL interpreters at the Box Office.

Washrooms

The washrooms on the main floor are gendered and accessible.

The Theatre

The theatre is on the main floor of the ACTF and can be accessed through the lobby. You will enter the theatre on the left-hand side of the audience seating. All performances are rush seating so you can choose any seat you prefer. Arriving early will provide you with the best options. If you do need accessible seating, please notify those at the box office to make sure something is held for you. The theatre seats 155 peoples and is divided into main floor and balcony seating. The main floor seating is configured on risers and there are steps up to the seats. The railing is intermittent to allow for access to all rows. Accessible seating, including for wheelchairs, is available in the front row, at entrance level.

Image Description: Red theatre chairs on raisers. A staircase is in the middle of the seats with an intermitted railing. A balcony is above with additional seating. The tech booth with open windows is visible on the top.

The tech booth is accessed through the balcony, the Sound & Lighting Technicians as well as the Stage Manager will be sitting in the booth to run the show. All our performances are student run.

If the balcony is open for the performance you're attending, it can be accessed on the second floor. The elevator or staircase take you to the second floor. The balcony has two steps to access the front row. There are two main rows and additional seating is available on the right-hand side.

To access additional seating in the balcony, more steps need to be climbed. Front of House staff and Ushers will be present to help access these seats as needed.

Image Description: Red theatre chairs in two rows. The front row goes two steps down. A black railing is in front of the front row of the seats. Stairs to the tech booth are seen on the right.

After the Performance

At the end of the performance the cast of actors will come on stage to bow. Sometimes the applause during these bows can be quite loud – please be prepared for this. Please wait until the actors have left the stage and all lights in the theatre are fully on before you exit. Unlike when you entered the theatre, everyone will be leaving at the same time so it might take a little longer before you are out in the lobby.

After the performance, you can exit the ACTF through the main doors. Audience members often gather in the lobby to meet up with family and friends who are performing and working on the show. It can get crowded in the lobby after the performance.

Accessible Performances

Please check our website and posters for information on which days we offer accessible performances including a relaxed/sensory friendly performance, ASL interpretation and audio description.

For those who have not attended any of these types of accessible performances before:

- Our relaxed/sensory friendly performance is offered for those who need a more casual and flexible experience. It will include pre-show information about any difficult content and loud sounds. Some sound or lighting cues will be adjusted so they are less harsh. The audience lights will be left on at a dim level in case anyone needs to leave or move around. It will still be the same quality of show just with small adjustments.
- The show with ASL (American Sign Language) interpreters will include two interpreters on stage off to the side. They will be using ASL for Deaf members of the audience.
- Audio description will allow blind and low vision audience members to enjoy the show. Those who request one will be given a headset and can hear the visual aspects of the show being described to them in between the lines spoken by the actors. The describer is using a special microphone so that it will not be heard by the rest of the audience.

For all performances we have a Quiet Room available should anyone need to leave the theatre and have some time to themselves.

Guide dogs are also welcome to all of our performances. We have blankets available to help make sure they are comfortable on the risers.
